WELCOME TO LOVEOLLI

We're so glad you stopped by

A battered brown suitcase crammed full of faded postcards, old letters, stamps and precious scraps of vintage fabrics has become the inspiration behind the LoveOlli range which we are delighted to present to you here.

LoveOlli was established by textile designer Olive McCaughan in 2012 with the simple desire to create inspiring and unique products with a vintage twist.

Each product in the range has been carefully designed and we have the privilege of working with a wonderful group of British and Irish suppliers who care as much about the products they make as we do. Our candles are made from 100% natural soy wax with a high perfume content to give the best possible scent throw. Our soap and lip balm are handmade for us in small batches using only the best natural ingredients and then beautifully packaged on our farm in County Down. Our gift wrap sheets are printed in Ireland on a luxuriously thick matt laid paper and have proven as popular for crafting as they have for wrapping.

We do hope you enjoy browsing our catalogue and find our range fresh and inspiring.

Please check our Facebook page for regular news and updates as there are lots more ideas up our sleeves and lots of lovely new products to add over the coming months.

We would love to hear from you whether you are an existing LoveOlli stockist or interested in becoming one, just drop us an email to olive@loveolli.co.uk or telephone Olive on 07872972020
